

About the law for personal autonomy promotion and dependence support

Abstract:

The law 39/2006 of Personal Autonomy Promotion and Dependent Persons Care, try to offer solutions for a bleeding injustice situation, but, taking note of the dependence concept historical developments, it's possible illustrate how, unlike emancipation one, tends to maintain the trouble of disability under the darkness of a naturalized subordination, that living situation from which is impossible to wield any vindication in order to improve this situation nor exercise any control over discourses that are generated all around, because is perceived as intrinsically negative or tragic; as a result, charity or compassion are the common attitudes. The law has not became, in fact, in a substantive advance in relation to living conditions of people with disabilities.
