

Inclusive education: a justice duty

Abstract:

There are people with disabilities who fight to defend their rights and their hard-working lives are the best examples of what inclusion means. They appear in the media (Goya awards celebration: Erik Langui) in the cinema (Black and white: Rubén Gallego). Their fight has opened our minds and has demonstrated with facts that they are more "valid" than normally thought. It is necessary to open the doors of the school to the whole community. Only the joint, solidarity and committed work of all the participants of the school educational community allows attention to the needs of people with disabilities and the support of the present and future autonomy of all the people involved.

Keywords: Inclusive Education; Disability; Educational Collective; Community; Resources