

Monographic introduction

Abstract:

The articles contained in this volume are a potent critique against the hegemonic orthodoxy of the medical science on disability. There is not a single and monolithic theoretical orientation but a set of diverse, and some time opposite, tendencies: from the pure Marxist materialistic approach to cultural orientations, even "postmodern" analysis. From diverse focuses and matters, the authors propose different aspects of such a critique.

Keywords: disability. Social model, functional diversity, education, public politics, epistemology, body.
